Wednesday Morning, February 22 1871.

FREE trade keeps every American workingman under perpetual competition with all the lowest paid workingmen on the globe. Whatever he does he must do cheaper than the whole world beside, and of course, of all the world's paupers, he must be the poorest, or else the national industry must fail in the fierce competition.

PENNSYLVANIA SCHOOLS.—There are in Pennsylvania 2,002 school districts; 14,212 schools; 2,892 graded schools; 18,100 directors; 70 county and other superintendents; 17,612 teachers, and 828,891 pupils. The estimated cost of tuition in the State, for the past year, was $3,745,475 80; the estimated salary of male teachers being $40.65 per month.

THE Coatesville "Times" contains the following rather novel notice: "To be married, if Divinely permitted, Joseph Brinton and Anna M. Howland, at the residence of the former, near Ercildoun, Chester county, Pa. A public meeting being appointed for the purpose, on sixth day, the 17th inst., at two o'clock in the afternoon. Sober neighbors and acquaintances, who may incline to attend, are cordially invited so to do."

THE Kensington Bank, Phila., was robbed, on the 3d inst., in the most cunning and audacious manner of $65,000 special deposits. Two men, dressed as policemen, informed the watchmen that they had been detailed to help protect the Bank against an expected robbery, and upon being admitted overpowered the watchmen, securely gagged and bound them, and, calling in confederates forced open the safe and abstracted such funds as were of value to them.

THE Mifflin county Treasurer during the past year paid premiums on one wolf, six wildcats, eight hundred and ninety two polecats, two hundred and three foxes, one hundred and forty-five hawks and seventy-eight owls. The premium for the first named is twelve dollars; for a wildcat, two dollars; for a polecat, fifty cents to one dollar; for hawks and owls, fifty cents to one dollar, according to the spread of wing. Perfumed rabbits appear to be plenty in that section.

THE London "Spectator" notes it as a remarkable fact, that during the whole Franco-Prussian war only one stand of colors has been taken from the Germans, and this, not by a Frenchman, but by Ricciotti Garibaldi, who, in defending Dijon against the German forces, took the colors from the 61st Regiment of Pomerania. To this might be added the fact that the only statesman in France who has shown real force of character, although in connection with a certain pettiness, is Gambetta, an Italian by descent, that the greatest warrior the French ever had, the first Napoleon, was of Italian lineage.

THE House committee on the Judiciary will take occasion to report a bill for the apportionment of members of Congress under the new census, this week. The committee seem to think they can secure a majority in favor of the bill. A correspondent at Washington intimates that the Pennsylvania delegation will join the opposition to this measure. That is not likely since it will give this State two additional representatives, if the membership of the House is put at 275, as is proposed. Pennsylvania not only will not oppose this increase, but is willing to have it go into effect as soon as may be.

THE result of the second census in New York is a complete answer to the partisan clamor about the inaccuracy of the enumeration last summer. The former total was 925,485, and the gain upon it was 16,767, twenty-two more than the gain of the second enumeration in Philadelphia. This closeness is remarkably. Another noteworthy thing is Superintendent Walker's remark that, "Had they, (the Marshal and his assistants) not taken far more pains than the Government paid for, or had a right to expect, the result of the first count of the population would have fallen considerably short of 930,000." This is strong testimony to the insufficiency of the system provided by Congress for taking the census.

A STARTLING RUMOR.

TAMMANY PLOTTING TO CARRY PHILADELPHIA OVER TO THE DEMOCRATS—ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS SAID TO HAVE BEEN RAISED FOR THE PURPOSE.

We have not only seen a rumor of this kind printed in contemporary journals, but the report, with some additions, has reached us from other, and as we think, reliable sources. We confess that we are somewhat startled at the magnitude of the work suggested as well as at the means to be employed to accomplish it. The political atmosphere has long been more than slightly tainted with corruption; but we did not dream that it had reached an extent that would warrant even the bold and reckless politicians of Tammany Hall to attempt the enterprise of transferring, through the influence of money, the Republican majority of a State to the Democratic party by means of legislation. If it is true—and nothing is too monstrous in the politics of the day to be discredited without the most satisfactory rebutting testimony—we can only hope that Tammany, and the adjuncts and coadjutors of Tammany in this State, have undertaken a contract which is too heavy for them—with all the money they have at command, and all the astuteness they can bring to the accomplishment of the scheme—to fulfill. The following dispatch, which we take from the Pittsburg Commercial, discloses the full purpose and details of the scheme, which, we must say is the most extensive and magnificent of the kind we have ever seen. We ask particular attention to it:

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12, 1871.—A plot has just been developed to carry over Philadelphia and Pennsylvania to the Democratic party, which is creating intense excitement amongst Republican politicians. A combination has been formed amongst the Democratic leaders, representing the worst elements of their party, and some prominent Republicans, to take the control of the municipal affairs of this city from the Republican party by legislation, which will probably be presented next week at Harrisburg. Commissioners are to be created grasping the police, the highway and the water departments, and the assessments and valuation of property, with the appointment of all the local revenue officers. The commissioners will be named in the respective laws, and authorized to fill all vacancies among themselves. Seven thousand appointees will be wrested from the Republican party and placed in the hands of the conspirators, together with the absolute control of all the material interests of the city. One hundred thousand dollars has been raised for the subordination of Republican members, and is at the disposal of a leading Democratic member of the House. The project originated with Tammany, and is designed to extend its jurisdiction over Philadelphia. Mr. Tweed has visited this city several times recently in preparation of the details.

It is barely possible there is something a little sensational in the above details; but the same story, as we said before, has reached our ears from other sources, so that we are inclined to believe that there is in it far more "truth than poetry." We have heard, moreover, in addition to what is related in the above dispatch, that some members of the Legislature have been offered $1000 to give their aid to the accomplishment of the scheme, and no doubt they can command even a higher price if disposed to give their votes and influence to a measure so thoroughly and essentially corrupt that there is no word in the English language, which we can think of at present, sufficiently strong to characterize it.

We do not vouch for the correctness of any portion of the report. It may be true, it may be false; or it may be true in part and in part false. But it is sufficiently startling to make it our duty to call public attention to it, and to warn Republican members of the Legislature, at least, that those of them will be best off who have least to do with it. It would mortify us and the Republican party greatly, if a single Republican member should fall into the trap so adroitly set for them, baited with the filthy lucre of this world—which is well enough when honestly and conscientiously earned, but never worth the sacrifice of integrity and principle to obtain. We trust, however, should the measure develope itself in the manner suggested in the dispatch, and come before the Legislature for its action, we shall have no occasion to brand any Republican member as a corruptionist and traitor to his party. We have faith that every member elected by the Republican party will be true to its principles and its interests, and that not one of them will fall, however strong the inducements held out to them to betray the trust reposed in them, and violate the conviction of their own consciences may be. We admonish them in time to be on their guard and to be faithful. Otherwise they will have a fearful reckoning with their constituents and with the Republican press, which it will be much easier for them to avoid than to encounter.—"Harrisburg Telegraph."

WHAT THE DEMOCRATS WILL DO.

[From the New York Herald.]

Nor do we think that the Republicans will be gratified in their expectation of the Democratic stupidity again in 1872—another revival of their fight against the Fifteenth and Fourteenth Amendments of the Constitution. They will, in their National Convention, accept the situation as Tammany has accepted it; they will pick out as their candidates, men whose antecedents in the war are not of the Vallandigham school, and they will order their battle upon the financial shortcomings of Grant's administration, including its high taxes, with their oppressive discriminations against the masses of the people. For President, Governor Hoffman has been wisely withdrawn by Tammany. He is an able, capable and popular man; but his time has not yet come. Hendricks, Pendleton and Gen. Hancock are now most prominently in the foreground of the party; but of the old set of 1868 Hancock appears to us the only available piece of timber. Remembering, however, Polk, in 1844, and Pierce, in 1852, and that both were successful from their very obscurity, we may have the same convenient democratic game repeated in 1872. And why not? If the obscurity of Polk was too much for our greatest statesman, Henry Clay, and if the obscurity of Pierce was too much for our greatest soldier of his time, General Scott, why may not the unknown Smith or Jones be too much for General Grant on the new political issues of the day?

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Tribune asserts that railroad companies (he should have named them) are in the habit of buying axles of inferior iron to save cost. This, if true, is a startling fact, and adds force to the demand for protection by the public against such recklessness and parsimony. There is some danger of making too sweeping charges of this kind. Certain we are that it cannot with truth be made against all railroads, and it should be borne in mind also that axles made of the very best of iron have been known to break, a fact which does not, however, excuse the use of axles made of inferior iron for cheapness sake. In view of the perils to which the public is exposed, it seems reasonable that the public should have special means for securing its safety. There are boiler inspectors to insure safety on rivers, bank inspectors to insure safety in business, and why not inspectors of railroads and railroad equipments, to insure safety on the rails?—"Pittsburg Commercial."

LAST winter the Ohio Legislature enacted a brief law which attracted little notice at the time, but which seems likely, nevertheless, to prove an efficient piece of legislation in favor of temperance. It provided that the wife or family of a man known to be a habitual drunkard could recover damages from a liquor seller who continued to furnish intoxicating drinks to the inebrate, knowing his habits, unless the family should give their formal consent to such furnishing of liquor. Several cases have been tried under this law, and heavy damages have always been awarded to the injured families, so that it is asserted that in many drinking places there is prominently placarded the question, "Have you your wife's consent to drink? Indeed, it is said, such has been the beneficial effect of this law in Mansfield, that only three drinking saloons are in operation in the entire city. Here's something that temperance people will find it worth their while to look into.

AN editor down East thus speaks of a contemporary: "He is too lazy to earn a meal and too mean to enjoy one. He was never generous but once, and that was when he gave the itch to his apprentice. So much for his goodness of heart. Of his industry, the public may the better judge when we state that the only day he ever worked was the day he mistook castor oil for honey."

AT one of the ragged schools in Ireland, a clergyman asked the question: "What is holiness?" A poor Irish convert, in dirty, tattered rags, jumped up and said: "Plase your riverence, it's to be clane inside."

For the REPUBLICAN.

THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT AND THE CLERGY.

The official report of the County Superintendent of Centre county for the year 1869, cotaains the following:

"Clergy.—We do not get that help from this venerable class which we have a right to expect. They seem to concern themselves very little about the training of the young. An occasional sermon on the duties of parents would exert a good influence."

Now I would like to inquire the cause of placing on the public records a sweeping censure of "this venerable class?" And I would like to enter my most earnest and emphatic protest against it, as an outrage against all the ammenities and courtesies which characterize civilized life.

He says "we do not get that help * * * which we have a right to expect."

What right has he to expect any help from them. When did he ever invite the clergy as a class to his examination—county institutes, or even to visit the schools? I have in vain looked for a single instance of the kind; and if they were not publicly invited why are they publicly and officially censured?

I believe it is generally understood that clergymen are not desired, expected or invited to meddle with the public schools. Should they do so to any considerable extent I do not doubt but that the same voice that now censures them for neglect, would rebuke their officious and uninvited interference. Again he says, "they seem to concern themselves very little about the training of the young." Indeed! he forgets the "number of select and private denominational schools in different parts of the county" mentioned in the same report.

These are doubtless to a greater or less extent under the care of the class he censures. He forgets that there are such institutions as Sunday schools, Bible classes, and Sunday school conventions and institutes sustained and controlled by the clergy in the interest of educating the young.

He needs to be informed that the methouist convention in Philadelphia last October passed the following resolution.

"Resolved. That our sympathies as a church are with our public schools, and nothing we can do to make them more effective and to diffuse their blessings more extensively shall be neglected."

We claim that this puts the methodist church and clergy at least all right on the record.

Again he says an occasional sermon on the duties of parents would exert a good influence. Perhaps he is not aware that the Methodist discipline requires the ministers of that church to preach a special sermon once a year on the subject of education. See Discipline of M. E. Church pp. 237, 336. Nor are other churches less exacting on this point than the one named. We close by suggesting that the omission of all reference to the clergy would be a vast improvement to the forth coming annual report of the county Superintendent; and we hope that no censures may hereafter be placed on record for the non performance of duties which were not specifically imposed by courteous invitation. VINDEX.

IT is some years since our reciprocity treaty with Canada expired by limitation, and Congress has not renewed it because it seems that it gave the Dominion the best of the bargain. Nobody has ever clearly explained why this was the case, but now Mr. John Moore of Buffalo, appears in the Express with what he claims is "the real cause." He asserts it as a fact to his own knowledge that for several years after the treaty went into operation nearly all Canada, including Montreal, purchased nearly all their teas, sugars, coffees and tropical productions in New York. The Canadian duties then were specific, but the Lower Canadian influence got them changed to ad valorem, with the proviso that duties should be charged on the cost when the article is purchased. Thus, while foreign goods imported via New York paid duty on the interest, freight, commissions and other expenses, which are manifestly as much a part of the cost of the article as the original price, those imported at Montreal escaped these charges. In this way Canada nullified the operation of the treaty and the apparent bad faith shown is not encouraging to a renewal of negotiations of this character with the Dominion.

SAN DOMINGO.

THE TENNESSEE SAFE IN PORT!

THE COMMISSION AT WORK.

What Had Been Done—What Had Been Intended.

Strong Feeling Favorable to Annexation—False Reports—Getting at the Facts.

From Our Correspondent Attached to the Commission.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

SAN DOMINGO CITY, February 3, }
Via New York, February 20, 1871. }

ARRIVAL AT SAMANA.

The Tennessee arrived here day before yesterday evening, but did not land formally till to day. We had a very prosperous voyage to Samana, but as the Government has no facilities whatever for sending coal out to ships of second rate, which are obliged to lie a mile and a half off, there was a detention of six days to get off coal on the launches of the ship.

FEELING IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION.

The Commission spent the time in hard work and got statements from representations of all classes. Most of these are in favor of annexation. Many of the office-holders, however, are speculative whether they will be displaced by American officers; and while they did not raise the question with the Commission, they talked freely with some others. There is no system of internal taxation and it is a serious question whether the people would submit.

THE COUNTRY TEEMING WITH RICHES.

The country is as rich as its most earnest friends have represented it. The season at present is very healthy, and the heat less oppressive than Washington summers. The people are very indolent, and the whole land seems asleep.

LAND TITLES AT SAMANA.

The matter of land titles about the harbor of Samana was thoroughly investigated by the Commission, and copies of the record obtained. There is nothing whatever to show that any official of the United States is concerned in any operation of a private character in that section, but Fabens and O'Sullavan, with some associates of the former, have a lease of nearly all the water front, and for a considerable distance back, which has deep water in front of it. The grant is far below the usual rates, and the annual renewal is without regard to an increase in price. The annual consideration is $112 per year. Fabens has also imported lumber and other stores free of duty, under the plea that they were for the United States.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE PEOPLE.

The people in that section are ignorant, and mostly live in huts. There is mixture of a half-dozen races, and a corresponding corruption of languages. The most prosperous part of the population is a negro colony which came out from Philadelphia in 1824. They now number 500, and are all Methodists.

SAMANA HARBOR.

The harbor Samana will not admit ships of the second class. It will require a large appropriation to put the coal stations in proper condition, but it is capable of being made one of the finest in the world. The system of fortification will necessarily be nearly as extensive as that of New York city. There is no harbor at this place except for vessels below the fourth rate. All war steamers lie in the open roadstead with banked fires.

A FULL AND FAIR INVESTIGATION.

The Commission is honestly arriving at full and fair investigation. None of the members express their opinions.

RECEPTION OF THE COMMISSION BY BAEZ.

The reception here by Baez was of a formal character, followed by a quite familiar conversation. The ceremony took place at the Executive mansion of the Republic, Delmonte, Gautier, and the Minister of War were present. Mr. Wade presented a statement of the action of Congress, and read the following letter of authority from President Grant:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 15, 1871.

"His Excellency, B. Baez, President of the Republic of San Domingo:

"SIR: In accordance with a joint resolution of the two Houses of Congress of the United States, I have appointed three distinguished citizens of the United States, to wit: Hon. B. F. Wade many years a Senator; President A. D. White, of Cornell University, and Dr. S. G. Howe, distinguished for his philanthropy, learning and service in relieving the blind and mute of much of the monotony of life incident to their infirmities, by opening to them the world of letters, as a commission to visit the Republic of San Domingo, and to obtain the information called for by resolution. Associated with the Commission is Judge Allan G. Burton, Secretary to the same, a gentleman who has honored his country by serving it in a diplomatic capacity. I beg to introduce these gentlemen, and ask for them your kind offices. With great respect, your obedient servant.

"U. S. GRANT."

President Baez replied: "Gentlemen I have read with much pleasure, the autograph note which His Excellency, President Grant, has sent me through so highly appointed a medium. I understand that your mission, ordered by the Congress of the United States, is one absolutely of peace. This is the aspiration and object of the Republic. One of the grand motives which has produced these negotiations is that development of its riches by means of labor, and to so guarantee the existence of the liberty and property of the citizens. You may count on the most ample and absolute liberty in the exercise of your Commission. The Government offers whatever data you may consider necessary, and will take special pleasure in giving you every satisfaction. In making your investigation as to the spontaneity of the resolution of the Dominican people, we desire ardently that you will consult not only the immense majority in favor of annexation, but also those who are opposed to them."

The above is the official translation of the speech.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

CHRISTMAS EVE.

BY MRS. SOPHIA P. SNOW.

'Twas the eve before Christmas; "Good night" had been said.
And Annie and Willie had crept into bed;
There were tears on their pillows, and tears in their eyes.
And each little bosom was heavy with sighs—
For to-night their stern father's commands had been given.
That they should retire precisely at seven,
Instead of eight; for they troubled him more
With questions unheard of, than ever before;
He had told them he thought this delusion a sin,
No such being as "Santa Claus" ever had been,
And he hoped, after this, he should nevermore hear
How he scrambled down chimneys with presents each year
And this was the reason that two little heads
So restlessly tossed on their soft, downy beds,
Eight nine, and the clock on the steeple tolled ten;
Not a word had been spoken by either till then.
When Willie's sad face from the blanket did peep,
And whispered, "Dear Annie, is you fast asleep?"
"Why, no, brother Willie," a sweet voice replies,
"I've tried it in vain, but I can't shut my eyes;
For, somehow, it makes me so sorry because
Dear papa has said there is no 'Santa Claus.'
Now we know there is and it can't be denied,
For he came every year before mamma died;
But, then, I've been thinking that she used to pray,
And God would hear everything mamma would say,
And perhaps she asked him to send Santa Claus here,
With the sacks full of presents he brought every year."
"Well why tan't we pay dest as mamma did then,
And ask him to send him with presents a den?"
"I've been thinking so, too." And without a word more
Four little bare feet bounded out on the floor,
And four little knees the soft carpet pressed,
And two tiny hands were clasped close to each breast.
"Now, Willie, you know we must firmly believe
That the presents we ask for we're sure to receive:
You must wait just as still till I say 'Amen.'
And by that you will know that your turn has come then."
"Dear Jesus, look down on my brother and me,
And grant us the favor we are asking of Thee;
I want a wax doll, a tea-set and ring.
And an ebony work-box that shuts with a spring,
Bless papa, dear Jesus, and cause him to see
That Santa Claus loves us far better than he
Don,t let him get fretful and angry again
At dear brother Willie and Annie, Amen."
"Pleas. Desus, et Santa Taus tum down to-night,
And bring us some presents before it is light.
I want he should dive me a nice little sed,
With bright shinin' yunners, and all painted yed;
A box full of tandy, a book and a toy,
Amen, and then, Desus, I'll be a dood boy."
Their prayers being ended, they raised up their heads,
And with hearts light and cheerful, again sought their beds:
They were soon lost in slumber, both peaceful and deep,
And with fairies in Dreamland were roaming in sleep.
Eight, nine and the little French clock had struck ten,
Ere the father had thought of his children again;
He seems now to hear Annie's half suppressed sighs,
And to see the big tears stand in Willie's blue eyes.
"I was harsh with my darlings," he mentally said,
"And should not have sent them so early to bed;
But then I was troubled—my feeling found vent,
For bank stock to-day has gone down ten per cent.
But of course they've forgot their troubles ere this,
And that I denied them the thrice asked for kiss;
But, just to make sure, I'll steal up to the door,
For I never spoke harsh to my darlings before."
So saying, he softly ascended the stairs,
And arrived at the door to hear both of their prayers,
His Annie's "bless papa" draws forth the big tears,
And Willie's grave promise falls sweet on his ears.
"Strange, strange I'd forgotten," said he with a sigh,
"How I longed, when a child, to have Christmas draw nigh.
I,ll atone for my harshness," he inwardly said,
"By answering their prayers ere I sleep in my bed."
Then he turned to the stairs and softly went down,
Threw off velvet slippers and silk dressing gown—
Donned hat, coat, and boots, and was out in the street,
A millionare facing the cold driving sleet,
Nor stopped he until he had bought everything,
From the box full of candy to the tiny gold ring,
Indeed, he kept adding so much to his store,
That the various presents outnumbered a score,
Then homeward he turned with his holiday load,
And with Aunt Mary's help in the nursery 'twas stowed:
Miss dolly was seated beneath a pine tree,
By the side of a table spread out for her tea;
A work-box well filled in the center was laid,
And on it a ring for which Annie had prayed.
A soldier in uniform stood by a sled,
"With bright shining runners and all painted red."
There were balls, dogs, and horses, books pleasing to see,
And birds of all colors were perched in the tree;
While Santa Claus, laughing, stood up in the top,
As if getting ready more presents to drop.
And as the fond father the picture surveyed,
He thought for his trouble he had amply been paid,
And he said to himself, as he brushed of a tear,
"I'm happier to night than I've been for a year.
I've enjoyed more true pleasure than ever before.
What care I if bank stock falls ten per cent more!
Hereafter, I'll make it a rule, I believe,
To have Santa Claus visit us each Christmas eve.
So thinking he gently extinguished the light
And tripp d down the stairs to retire for the night.
As soon as the beams of the bright morning sun
Put the darkness in flight, and the stars, one by one
Four little blue eyes out of sleep opened wide
And at the same moment the presents espied.
And then out of their beds they sprang with a bound,
And the very gifts prayed for were all of them found.
They laughed and they cried in their innocent glee,
And shouted for "papa" to come quick and see
What presents old Santa Claus brought in the night,
(Just th things that they wanted), and left before light.
"And now," added Annie, in a voice soft and low,
"You'll believe there's a Santa Claus papa, I know;"
While dear little Willie climbed up on his knee,
Determined no secret between them should be:
And told, in soft whispers, how Annie had said
That their dear, blessed mamma, so long ago dead,
Used to kneel down and pray by the side of her chair,
And that God up in heaven had answered her prayer!
"Then we dot up and prayed dest as well as we tould,
And Dod answered our prayers, now wasn't he dood?"
"I should say that he was, if he sent you all these.
And knew just what presents my children would please.
(Well, well, let him think so, the dear little elf,
'Twould be cruel to tell him I did it myself.")
Blind father, who caused your stern heart to relent?
And the hasty word spoken so soon to repent?
'Twas the being who bade you steal softly up stairs,
And made you his agent to answer their prayers.

We must row hard against the stream of wickedness in the world, or it will carry us with it into the Lake of Perdition.

ADDRESS OF MOSES W. FIELD, TO THE WORKINGMEN OF THE MIDDLE STATES.

LABOR, GOOD WAGES, PROSPERITY.

A PLOT TO ROB WORKINGMEN OF THEIR LABOR EXPOSED—PROTECTION TO AMERICAN LABOR—PROSPERITY IS GOOD FOR ALL—SHALL WE GET OUR MECHANICAL WORK DONE IN ENGLAND?—LET US DO ALL OUR OWN WORK AT HOME—LABOR THE POOR MAN'S CAPITAL—PLENTY OF WORK, GOOD WAGES AND MORALITY AGAINST IDLENESS, PAUPERISM AND CRIME—WORKINGMEN, WILL YOU TAKE YOUR OWN HEAD OFF?

WHAT WORKINGMEN WANT.

We are, in the broadest sense, a nation of laborers, and I shall address myself specially to that great class of honest toilers constituting nineteen-twentieths of our voting population. The question arises, what legislation will promote, in the highest degree, the welfare and interests of the producing and working classes. You will say "give us plenty of work (employment) and good wages." I agree with you that these conditions are absolutely required to ensure your success. Labor is the chief source of wealth, and when in full exercise, with liberal wages, the earnings, and accumulations of the people are rapid and real, securing to them contentment and happiness, and to the country at large general prosperity. Our aim should be in every possible way to augment and diversify the labor of the country, with the view to furnish such prompt and varied employments at home for all our people—men, women and children, as will yield to them an adequate reward for their labor and enterprise, and promote the rapid development of our resources. We need more factories and workshops, and we require their successful operation in order to stimulate and increase the demand for labor in every department of industry.

A NATIONAL MARKET FOR NATIONAL LABOR.

To sustain industry a market is required for the sale of its productions. If the market fails the work stops. But we now have a large home market and it is daily increasing and expanding. Our country is broad, our resources great, and our people are liberal consumers. The question is, shall our workingmen supply our markets with all the manufactures our country requires; or shall we tolerate the scheme of the British Free-Trade League which, proposes by the repeal of the duties now levied on foreign manufactures, to throw open our ports, and invite foreigners, with their slave and pauper labor, to supply our markets, on an equal footing with the American laborer. I think you will agree with me in denouncing this nefarious scheme, and in thinking that the more mechanical work we have to do at home all the better for our workingmen. If the required work, or any portion of it, be done in Europe, surely our workingmen will have just that much less to do here. Shall our market then be supplied and glutted by the labor of Europe; or shall we reserve the national market; and give to our laborers a preferential chance?

Furthermore, the wages which reward labor here are more than double the wages of labor in Europe. It will be perceived, therefore, that if we favor Free-Trade, or the admission of foreign products free of duty, we advocate a measure that would knock down our wages to the standard of Europe, or compel our workingmen to quit work, eat up the hard earnings of the past, and then go to the poor house. Over seven-eighths of the cost of every article is wages or labor, and this is the reason why we cannot compete with the labor of Europe; and it is the potential reason why we do not propose to debase our labor by such wrongful and suicidal competition. I see no object or advantage whatever to us in getting our work done in Europe. Foreign countries possess no superior facilities or advantages for manufacturing except cheap labor, and believing it to be the true policy of the country to adopt such measures as will tend to protect and elevate American labor, and knowing that object could only be attained by securing to our working people steady employment and good compensation, I have for thirty years advocated a tariff for substantial protection to our labor.

The National market should be reserved for the National labor. Let the people who own the country and work to build it up enjoy the benefits of the market which their enterprise and industry alone has created. And if foreigners want access to our market, for the sale of their manufactures, let us require them either to pay tolls in the shape of Protection duties, or come here with their machinery build factories, furnish employment to our people, and pay American wages.

EXPERIENCE WITH FREE TRADE.

From 1854 to 1861 we had Free-Trade times, and workingmen know by bitter experience the depression and poverty—little work and low wages—which characterized that gloomy period. Trade and business of all kinds were paralyzed, merchants failed, and the country suffered all the blighting effects of Free Trade.

Since 1861 we have had a tariff which has protected our labor, and useful industries, both small and great, have started up in our midst. Labor has been better employed, and with better wages, than ever before in the history of the country. But, notwithstanding the impediments and restraints of the existing Tariff, the capitalists and manufacturers of Europe sent to this country during the past year over $350,000,000 worth of their mechanical work, consisting mainly of leather, furniture, boots and shoes, cigars, machinery, saws, edge tools, iron and steel manufactures of every description, clothing, glass, and cotton and woolen goods. If all these commodities consumed by our people had been manufactured in the United States, over 800,000 more hands would have been employed here the to manifest advantage of our workingmen' strengthening the demands for labor and supporting our higher scale of wages.

It is bad enough to employ even the 800,000 hands abroad to do our mechanical work, as we are doing to-day, notwithstanding the Tariff, while many of our own people are idle for want of employment; but think for a moment of the general paralysis, despair and ruin that would ensue should the Revenue Reformers succeed in the Free-Trade project which they are pledged to carry out! Instead of 800,000 hands, Free-Trade would furnish Europe mechanical work sufficient to employ 30,000,000 of its paupers and slaves. All laborers are alike interested in this question.

We are a homogeneous people, linked closely together, and socially and politically united as we are in sympathy and interest.

The permanent success of one branch of industry is only secured by the prosperity of all. Depress or injure one trade and all will be affected more or less. It is an industrial law as unerring as physical laws. If you pull out a man's eye or saw off his leg, he may not die, but he will be disabled and injured. Throw 5,000 men out of employment in the three leading industries of Detroit, and the general scale of wages would in a short time be effected by their misfortune.

In labor's chain whatever link you strike.
The sixth or sixth hundred breaks the chain alike.

DEMOCRATIC PLAN FOR DEPRESSING WAGES.

As above stated the wages or labor bestowed in the production of an article reppresents its cost. You are directly interested therefore, not only in a steady and reliable market, but in the market value of the products of your labor; and any plan or desire of Free Traders or other enemies of our labor calculated to strike down the market price of your productions is alike calculated to strike down the price of your labor.

The pledge of the Free-Trade Democracy, therefore, of cheapening articles and reducting prices, means nothing more nor less than the general oppression and degredation of American labor to the wretched herd of the repaid and ill-fed millions of Europe. And to whose benefit? The mere handful of the rich people who live on their large interest. They want cheap gewgaws, lace, and silk stockings. If brick, selling at $6 per 1,000 represents labor, at $2,06 per day, and brick is all labor, then if the brick will only sell at $3, wages are knocked down one half. If shoes selling at $3 a pair represent labor at $2,50 per day, then if the shoes sell for only $1 50 per pair, the shoemaker can only take $1 25 for his wages. If cigars selling at $20 per 1,000 represent labor at $3 per day, if the price be reduced to $10, the cigar-maker must take $1 50 for his wages. So it is with reference to safes, engines, stoves, boilers, clothing, and all other manufactures. If you examine the question philosophically you will perceive that employers are simply the time-keepers and agents of labor. They do the clerical and brain-work, assumes responsibilities and risks, and are entitled to a good reward for their enterprise and labor.

It will be preceived that whether we work on our own account, single-handed, whether under the co-operative plan, or employed by another, we are in each position directly interested in the success of the enterprise, the sale of the product, and in a market at home, for the product. A quick and profitable demand for the product insures steady employment and hardens the price of labor.

NO MONOPOLY OF LABOR.

Fortunately there are no restrictions to labor; there is no such thing as an industrial monopoly in all our broad land, the bald assertions of some newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding. The channels of labor and trade are open and free to all—"a fair field and no favor" is the practice everywhere. The success of one man stimulates others to embark in the same industry, and every additional factory, furnace or workshop increases the demand for labor and the pleasant sounds of industry are heard in every village and metropolis of the country. Competition is the life of industry, and it is wholesome and useful among our kinsmen and peers; but when the workers of America are asked to compete on an equal footing with the Sepoys, serfs and slaves of the Eastern Hemisphere they will spurn the proposition with just horror and indignation.

THE ENGLISH FREE-TRADE SCHEME.

England has been able for many years to pit her skill and machinery against our raw materials and rude labor. She will take our raw cotton and sell us thimbles and hair pins. She takes our corn, gold, rags and timber, and gives us back poplins, silk stockings, embossed paper, and spool thread. "She buys our whole skin for a sixpence and sells us back the tail for a shilling."

Such trade is exhaustive and weakening. It secures to them the "workshops of the world," and to us that other rude work fit only for barbarians and slaves the raising of raw products for distant and unfavorable markets. The American workingman stands on the highest plane ever reached by man. Freedom and adequate compensation for labor have secured to him blessings which the laborers of other countries do not enjoy; but it will be necessary for him now to use the ballot wisely or his proud position will be lost forever. He should now, with determination and manly vigor, resist the British Free-Trade scheme which, carried into operation, would deal death and destruction to our labor, rob the workingman of his accustomed employment, and strike down the wages of his labor.

NO LEVELING DOWN.

We certainly can do nothing for the laborers of Europe. The power of the ballot does not extend beyond the Atlantic, and I fail to see how we can benefit paupers by reducing ourselves to pauperism. It is an awful thing to "level down." We must act intelligently and "level up." To elevate labor every system of political economy should tend. It is the sentiment which has created civilization. In the process of elevation the first condition required is employment, the second adequate compensation. Here the workingman has a chance to rise. This hope in the breast of man, for progress and elevation, the desire to improve his condition gives vitality to moral and intellectual growth, and strengthens the heart and hand of man to go forward and struggle for honorable success in life. But what is the situation of workingmen in Europe? He can only earn by incessant toil barely sufficient to afford him a scanty subsistence. To keep skin and bone together is the anxiety of his life, and he exists and works on, a sad creature without hope of realizing any aspiration or desire of the heart this side of the grave. Let our humanitarians and the friends of religion and morality consider that employment, with adequate reward for labor, elevates and improves society, while idleness degrades and impoverishes.

GENERAL PROSPERITY THE LIFE OF LABOR.

When the labor, of our varied industries finds steady employment with good wages, the country grows rapidly and prospers, all classes sharing in the general prosperity. It falls like the dews of Heaven on all alike, doing good to all and injury to none. People are able to pay rents to the capitalists, the trade of the merchant is profitable and brisk, and professional men find prompt reward for their services. You all know in prosperous times house-building and other improvements are required, and our builders, carpenters, bricklayers, and other trades, find quick and profitable employment. But let the depression come, as it will with Free-Trade, and how suddenly the demand for this class of labor slackens, and ultimately the work stops altogether. Prosperity is life, but adversity is death to labor. The works of our learned authors are protected by "copyright secured," and our inventors and geniuses are protected by United States patent laws. Why should workingmen be the only class not protected, and why should honest toilers be willing to throw down the barriers of Protection and let the labor of Europe crowd them out of their own markets? And for whose benefit is this scheme urged? Would it benefit us? No. The benefits would fall on the capitalists and manufacturers of Europe. Is it unreasonable for us, therefore, to demand, in the name of 20,000,000 American workers, that the "Monroe doctrine" should be applied to our industries as it has been adopted in our political creed? The Free-Traders and the Democratic speakers admit that with Free-Trade, wages here would drop to the level of labor wages in Europe, but they claim that the condition of the American workingman would be greatly improved, as he would be able to buy cheaper the things he consumes. How does a workingman expend his money? For silk stockings, gimps, and laces? No. Can you find in the cottages and homes of our laborers any of the imported fineries? No. This view is utterly fallacious, and the absurdity may be demonstrated thus:

EUROPEAN WORKINGMAN.

Wages six days (mechanic)		$7 20
Deduct expenses—
Provisions and food of all kinds (family)	$6 12
Other items	1 08
		7 20
Net savings		$0 00

AMERICAN WORKINGMAN.

Wages, six days (mechanic)		$15 00
Deduct expenses—
Provisions and food of all kinds (family)	$6 12
Other items	1 08
		7 20
Net savings		$7 80

Now, on the average, 85 per cent of a laboring man's total expenditure is paid out for subsistence, and as food, such as workingmen in Europe consume, is cheaper here than in any other country in the world, you will see at once that the advantages are in favor of the American workman. To say that laboring men in Europe do live on cheaper, coarser and meaner fare is no argument, for he can do so here. We have no law here to prevent a man living plainly and as poorly as he may choose. We have no statute prohibiting the use of wooden shoes; but the better pay which labor receives here soon induces our friends to exchange the hard wood for neat and comfortable leather shoes.

When labor makes full time the gain is certain; when employment fails and the work stops, labor suffers an irreparable loss of at least $2 per day for each laborer, taking the average of skilled and unskilled labor; and should the workers of the United States remain unemployed 53 days, the loss would be equal to the National debt.

THE EIGHT HOUR SYSTEM.

Believing that less hours of toil, affording the workman more opportunities for moral and intellectual improvement, would tend to elevate the condition of labor, I long to see such large demand for labor as to enable the toilers of the land to decide the problem. It cannot be secured by legislation any more than a statute can force Detroit river up stream. Labor is subject to the law of supply and demand, and you will agree with me that greater demand for labor is what we want. But can the demand for labor here be augmented by getting our mechanical work done in Europe? Certainly not.

FARMERS AND GARDNERS.

Our farmers and gardners are faithful toilers from "early morn till late at dewey eve." I know their difficulties and vexations at times are great. They often suffer from the injury and devastation of the insect, the drouth, the floods and the frosts, but they can overcome all these impediments and losses; but should they be compelled also to face the blighting and destroying effects of Free Trade they would be forced to abandon the field and throw up their hands in despair. Without customers, and without any demand for his products, the farmer would fill up the corn-crib only to see his crop rot, and his cabbages, turnips, and potatoes would waste ungathered, for want of a market. His old customers, forced out of employment in the workshop, now cultivate the soil too, and both farmer and mechanic languish and fall together. The farmers and gardners must I think see through this swindling Free-Traders scheme at a glance. We have around this city, and within a radius of eight miles, many thousand farmers and gardners. They want a near-by market and steady customers. If the manufactories and workshops of Hamtramck and Detroit were multiplied, giving employment to double the present number of operatives, would not the gardners be benefited? Double the population of Detroit to-morrow, would not their lands double in value, and would not the demand for garden and farm products be increased two-fold. On the other hand, strike down our manufactories, throw our operatives out of employment, let all the mechanical work they are now doing be done in England, and let population fall off as it would one-half, what would the gardner's land be worth, and what prices would garden products fetch in a community stricken with paralysis and paupery.

EFFECT OF FREE TRADE ON COMPENSATION, SALARIES, ET CETERA.

I suggest to the men who enjoy good salaries—the editors, the presidents, the superintendents, the reporters, the clerks, overseers and others, that they consider the effect of Free Trade on their compensation. Strike down common labor in this country to 30 cents a day and how long would our salaried men receive either handsome or decent pay for their services. The entire scale of American compensation would be effected disastrously by the destructive operation of Free Trade, and it should be resisted by every man in the country who carries a ballot in his hand.

LET US HAVE FREE TRADE.

Tea, coffee, spices, and such other articles in common use as we neither grow nor manufacture, should be admitted free of duty. This proposition was urged in Congress by Republican Representatives last winter, but it was voted down by the Democrats, who preferred to raise a large revenue from the poor man's tea and coffee and relieve the rich foreign capitalist of the duties now levied on importations of furniture, cigars, clothing, iron manufactures, cotton and woolen goods, and other articles which compete with American labor and lessen the mechanical work of our workingmen. The mechanic, as well as the common laborer, consumes as much tea and coffee as Astor or Vanderbilt, and when duties are imposed on such articles in common use, the poor man is compelled to pay as much as the millionaire toward the support of the General Government.

THE IMPORTATION OF CHINAMEN.

The eyes of all the world turn toward America. This Republic is the last hope of man; but while we "hold out the beacon peerless to the oppressed of all the world," and while we welcome to our shores the honest immigration of every color, clime, and creed, I think we should prohibit the importation of Chinamen or other pagans under the contract system of speculators, whereby freedom is shackled, a kind of slavery instituted, and the labor of freemen tampered with and degraded.

A PERSONAL APPEAL.

Workingmen, a wicked plot has been laid against you, and if the scheme be carried out, it will rob you of your labor, strike down your wages, knock down the value of your property, destroy earnings of the past, and make you an abject dependent and helpless pauper. Labor lies at the foundation of our prosperity, as it is the source of all our wealth; and whosoever seeks to rob you of your labor, seeks to destroy your very existence. "You take my house when you do take the prop that doth sustain my house; you take my life when you do take the means whereby I live.

My countrymen, in view of the impending danger which threatens the hearth and fireside of every home, let me earnestly urge you, as you love your country and rejoice in its prosperity, to use all your power in securing an intelligent use of the ballot—the mighty power which, in the hands of intelligent freemen, shall protect the labor of our hands, and preserve our national heritage.

A Word With Young Men.

It is as easy to be a good man as a poor one. Half the energy displayed in keeping ahead that is required to catch up when behind, would save credit, give more time to attend to business, and add to the profit and reputation of those who work for gain. Be prompt—keep your word. Honor your engagements. If you promise to meet a man, or to do a certain thing at a certain moment, be ready at the appointed time, If you go out on business, attend promptly to the matter on hand, then as promptly go about your own business.

Do not stop to tell stories in business hours. If you have a place of business be found there when wanted. No man can get rich by sitting around stores and saloons. Never "fool" on business matters. Have order, system, regularity, promptness. Do not meddle with business you know nothing of. Never buy an article you do not need simply because it is cheap, and the man who sells it will take it out in trade. Trade is money. Strive to avoid harsh words and personalities. Do not kick every stone in the path, more miles can be made in a day by going steadily on than stopping to kick. Pay as you go. A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond. Aid, but never beg. Help others when you can, but never give what you cannot afford to, simply because it is fashionable. Learn to say no. No necessity of snapping it out dog fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully. Have but a few confidants, and the fewer the better. Use your own brains rather than those of others. Learn to think and act for yourself. Be vigilant. Keep ahead rather than behind the time. Young men, cut this out, and if there be folly in the argument, let us know.

A HIBERNIAN, fresh from the "ould sod," having sufficient means to provide himself with a horse and cart (the latter a kind he probably never saw before), went to work, on a public road. Being directed by the overseer to move a lot of stones near by and deposit them in a gulley on the side of the road, he forthwith loaded his cart, drove up to the place, and had nearly finished throwing off his load by hand, when the boss told him that was not the way, he must tilt or dump his load at once. Paddy replied that he would know better the next time. After loading again he drove to the chasm, put his shoulder to the wheel and upset the horse, cart and all into the gulley. Scratching his head, and looking rather doubtful at his horse below him, he observed; "Bedad, it's a mighty sudden way, but it must be trying to the baste."

ROSADALIS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN health RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, and all Chronic Affections of the blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens. Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says
I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesborough, Tenn., says:
I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by F. P. GREEN, and Druggists generally.

COL. BROWN.—You will excuse me for asking space in your valuable paper for a few words in reply to the Address issued by J. H. Orvis, H. N. McAllister and Wm. H. Blair, Esqs., on the subject of the Law Library. Their reasoning has failed to convince me. I may be a little obtuse, a little dull of apprehension; but I cannot for the life of me see what the large libraries in Paris, London and other European countries have to do with the Law Library in Bellefonte. It is universally conceded that the masses of the people in London and in Paris, are very ignorant, mere serfs, not knowing their rights nor daring to maintain them. How are they benefited in anyway by these large libraries referred to by the three learned gentlemen?

Judging from the condition of these men and the practice there, is it not, almost a self evident proposition that these large libraries, from which the people are excluded, only tend to tighten their bonds, to increase their degredation, and to destroy in to-to their self pride? Can these learned gentlemen refer me to a single instance in any monarchical government where the people, the laboring classes, have been benefitted by those large libraries, in the smallest particular? But on the contrary is it not a notorious fact that they only tend to the benefit of the aristocracy, to the building up of classes,--the ruling classes I mean, to the detriment, and degredation of the laboring classes. Libraries, whether composed of Law or miscellaneous works cannot avail a people much, when that people is excluded from them and by a system of Court rules or red tape are unable at any time to gain access to them.

But say these three wise men, the Act establishing this Bellefonte Law Library provides for the purchase of a law library to be kept in the Court House for the use of the Court, Bar and Citizens of said county. Now suppose the Act does so provide, and I am convinced it does, does that make it so? Has it been of any benefit to the citizens of the county thus far? Has the Court up to this time, paid any attention to the provisions of said Act, in the appointment of committees? It is said the citizens are to be benefitted by this library as much as the lawyers. Then why does Judge Mayer invariably appoint three lawyers on the committee? Is it not strange that no citizen has ever yet been honored with a position on this committee? Does not the absence of such an appointment proved conclusively, that the people have neither part nor lot in this matter? But these three wise men say, if books are not purchased in this way it will be impossible for the Lawyers to obtain a sufficient library to enable to pursue their profession.

This is really a pity. But could they not turn their attention to some other business or calling? Suppose they would go to farming, would they ask the tax-payers to buy plows and other farming implements for them? They would ask in vain, I know. Then why should lawyers be more highly favored than farmers? And why should Jno. H. Orvis, H. N. McAllister and Wm. H. Blair, Esqs., call every person a demagogue who cannot see as they see? They wish to force things to suit them. We simply pray the Legislature to repeal the law and give the fines, &c., to the benefit of the poor or school fund. More anon.

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS."—There is no Charlatanism about Speer's "Wine Bitters." Their base is his pure wine, all of which is four years old, before it is sold or used in any way.—They only require to be used to recommend themselves to the most incredulous. They are pure and perfectly free from any kind of medication, and pleasant to the taste.

Sold by druggists.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Last week the REPUBLICAN first made its appearance in northern New York or to those of us who have recently come among the good people of this section. It met with a very cordial reception, I assure you, and we perused its pages with unusual interest; scarcely a line, aye a word, escaped our notice. We had been deprived of its intelligence for some time which rendered it doubly appreciated by us, for it has been said that 'tis only after we have been deprived of pleasures that we fully understand how to appreciate them. While at home when favored with many other periodicals we recognized the REPUBLICAN as one of our distinguished favorites, but when situated among strangers we watch as impatiently and eagerly for its weekly visits, as does the anxious mariner upon the boisterous ocean watch for the approaching shores. In it we recognized the names of persons and places that were very familiar to us, and we had "Old Centre," as it was, in our imagination, spread out before us, and how cheering to an absent household member, is any domestic intelligence. To them home is a sweet word and how many are the happy recollections which cluster around their memories of its pleasant retreats. While we were thus congratulating ourselves over the "News from home" the thought suggested itself to our minds, would they not be at least somewhat gratified by hearing of our whereabouts, and the "birds whisper" was yes, so I concluded to venture a few brief remarks, hoping they would meet with your kind approbation, and I flattered myself with the idea that some would read it for nothing more than to gratify idle curiosity, as that is a very prominent feature in the human family, though I hoped it might be of more real benefit. Our journey hither, though somewhat tedious was a pleasant one. The delightful weather which has been remarkable for the season, contributed much to our comfort. At times old Sol would seem to conceal himself behind some of the high towering mountains while at other times he would shine down upon the "Iron horse" with magestic splendor spreading his bright golden wings or'e the wide expanse, seemingly for our especial benefit. We witnessed some beautiful and magnificent scenery both natural and artificial. Our tastes for such exquisite beauties were by it increased and our souls enjoyed it exceedingly; but our pen refuses to find language to describe it, if there was even a place for it in this letter, and, since our short stay here, when taking a view of the surrounding country, we can truthfully say that nature has not lavished all her beauties on other lands, though it contrasts widely with the Keystone State and much of the country through which we passed. The country is very level and roads equally as straight. There are some trees but not the tall pines and sturdy oaks of the forests in Pennsylvania.

The manners and customs of the people are somewhat different, yet, as in all places, we find persons that are intelligent, learned and noble as well as those that are ignorant, illiterate and debased. The greater portion of the inhabitants are foreigners, especially in the dominion of Canada, when hearing such a diversity of dialects spoken, each one conversing in his native language, one would "suppose" that almost every nation on the globe was represented.

The style of architecture is quite dissimilar to what we have generally been accustomed, houses built low, but the "styles" are about the same.

A few days since we had a ride into Vermont, among the hills where the scenery looks more natural to a Pennsylvanian. The Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad crosses the Lake at Rouses Point by a permanent bridge 5,000 feet long, and a draw-bridge on pontoons 300 feet by 30 which is swung around when not in use so as to give free navigation. The dock is 800 by 164 feet. But the greatest novelty we saw was a house built on the lake with not a foot of land to support it. It looked dangerous, we thought, but pleasant and cozy with the house plants and flowers artistically arranged in the window, and the inmates seemingly as contented as though it were a palace But we hope to visit the "Home on the lake" before we "make our exit" from this place and will then be more able to give you a better description of it and for what purpose it was built, suffice it to say, at present, that we earnestly hope it is "romantic" enough for them. But my remarks are becoming more protracted than I had hoped they would and as this is my first attempt in noting for your paper, when you detect, as you undoubtedly will, many errors and discrepencies, let me ask you as also your many kind and intelligent readers to attribute them to my inexperience in writing for the press. With many kind wishes for the prosperity and advancement of your most worthy paper, I bid you "Good Night."

Yours truly,
CHAMPLAIN, N. Y. ADELL.

MORE "RADICAL LIES."

A dispatch from Charleston, S. C. states that a body of five hundred masked horsemen surrounded the jail of Union County, in that State, Sunday night last, tied the jailor, and took out ten negro prisoners confined on charges of murder and arson. Six of these were shot, two hung, and two are missing. The pretext for the crime was that the prisoners were about to be removed to Columbia on a writ of habeas corpus. We learn that "much indignation at the lynching prevailed among the masses of the people, without regard to party."

Shall we next hear that the indignant masses are prepared to unite "without regard to party." in a determined effort to find out the principal offenders in this flagrant outrage, and to punish them accordingly? It will not satisfy anybody to hear that the people in the communities where such murders are committed feel "indignant." It is their duty to put a stop to such crimes, such outrages upon all laws, divine as well as human. The Southern people are very sensitive of Federal authorities interfere at such times. They will not co-operate with "Radicals," white or black, in an attempt to suppress the Ku-Klux, and they raise a general outcry if the Republican Governors in the Southern States place arms in the hands of the freedmen, and organize the negroes into militia companies.

Hardly a week passes that we do not hear of some fearful tragedy like that now reported from South Carolina. How long is such a state of things to be tolerated? Do the Southern people really desire to put an end to such outrages? If so, how and when do they intend to do it?

—The new furnace at Sharpsville, Mercer county; is henceforth to be known as the "Douglass furnace"—in honor of the late distinguished Senator Stephen A. Douglass—and went in o blast on the 20th inst.

CARBOLIC TABLETS PREPARED BY DR. WELLS.

The most important discovery of the age is this wonderful Healing and Cleansing agents for all diseases or weakness of the Respiratory organs, Sore Throat, Sudden Cold, Hoarseness, Catarrh, Asthma, Dryness of the Throat or Windpipe, diseases of the Lungs and for all irritation of the mucuous membrane.

All vocalists and public speak and sing without effort, use these Tablets, their effect in clearing the voice is simply astonishing as can be shown by numerous certificates.

Dr. Well's Carbolic Tablets act directly on the mucuous membrane and should be promptly and freely taken in all exposure or violent change of weather, as they equalize the Circulation of the Blood and thus ward off all tendency to colds and Lung difficulty.

The proprietors would say, all first class medicines have their imitations, and they would Caution the public against imposition by having other medicines thrust upon them in place of these admirable Tablets.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Grey Hair to its natural Vitality & Color.

A dress which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Fresh or gray hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparation dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

The Candle in the Gunpowder.

A merchant was one evening celebrating the marriage of his daughter. While the guests were enjoying themselves above, he chanced to go into the basement where he met a servant carrying a candle without a candlestick. She passed on to the cellar for wood, and returning quickly without the candle, the merchant suddenly remembered that during the day several barrels of gunpowder had been opened. Inquiring what she had done with the candle, to his amazement and horror her reply was, that not being able to carry it with the wood, she had set it in a small barrel of "black sand," in the cellar. He flew to the spot. A long, red snuff was ready to fall from the wick into the mass of powder, when, with great presence of mind, placing one hand on each side of the candle, and making his hands meet at the top over the wick, he safely removed it from the barrel. At first he smiled at his previous terror; but the reaction was so great that it was weeks before he overcame the shock which his nerves had sustained in that terrible moment.

Beneath the surface of social enjoyments are burning passions and terrible temptations which may bring terrible destruction at any moment. To tempt with a glass of wine a man who is trying to control an inordinate appetite for strong drinks is to set the candle in the "black sand." To surround one's self with companions whose idea of society is that conscience shall not stand in the way of enjoyment is to us gunpowder for a candlestick. To act on the principle that a "loan" may be taken secretly from an employer's till, or that any secret vice may be indulged "just this once." is to expose the soul to terrible destruction.

The Tobacco Trade.

A recent report on the condition of the tobacco trade gives the following interesting statistics. Number of tobacco and snuff manufactories in active operation in the States and Territories, 940. Number of persons employed in making cigars, 57,631. The total production of tobacco and cigars, from September 30, 1862, to June 30, 1869, amounted in the whole to 312,638,887 pounds of tobacco, paying a revenue of $80,090,660, and to 3,727,421,219 cigars, paying a revenue of $19,853,096. The return to the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the year ending June 30th 1870, gives the production of tobacco and snuff at 61,589,938 pounds, on which a tax of thirty-two cents a pound was paid, and 28,698,142 pounds, on which a tax of sixteen cents was paid. The revenue from tobacco and cigars during that period was $31,350,707, of which New York paid $7,922,396; Virginia, $4,068,220; Pennsylvania, $2,588,017; Ohio, $2,360,627; Illinois $1,949,582; Missouri, $1,874,039; Maryland, $1,556,345; Michigan, $1,379,795; Kentucky, $1,262,449; Louisiana, $1,003,810; California, $984,199; North Carolina, $983,911; New Jersey, $599,377; Massachusetts, 542,626; and the other States paid smaller amounts. From these figures it appears that from September 30th, 1862, to June 30th, 1870, the United States Government has derived from tobacco, snuff and cigars an aggregate revenue of $131,295,363.

A LADY who has been reading the law, is in the most fearful and agonising doubts regarding the legality of the married condition. She says, "Lotteries are illegal, and marriage is the greatest lottery in life."

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all Affections and Diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. PRICE ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS PER BOTTLE.

But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to undounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a Toilet Appendage of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, safety and efficacy—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. The Great Medical Discovery!
Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands
Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Bitters display so decided an influence that a few bottles will be found a perfect Specific. ☞ Send for a circular.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now complete connections made,
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedy and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing:
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

Chorus, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of travelling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest price.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality.

HOME NEWS.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, the most popular preparation of the age. Sold by all druggists.

CURTIN'S Furnace has blowed out for want of ore, so we understand. Will resume again in a month or two.

Y. M. C. A.—Several questions of importance will come up for consideration, at the next regular business meeting of this association, Friday, Feb. 24th, 1871.

THE protracted meeting at Milesburg, in the M. E. Church, closed on last Thursday evening. Some 50 conversions and about 40 joined the church, were the results of this meeting.

OBITUARY.—Died January 29th, 1871, in Curtin township, Sarah Packer, widow of Jehu Packer, aged 78 years 6 months and 6 days. She leaves eleven children, eighty grand-children and sixteen great grand-children, making in all 107 descendents.

FAT LAMB.—Benj. Hunter brought to town on Friday last, a lamb 7 months old which weighed 48 lbs. clean meat. It was bought by those enterprising landlords of the Brockerhoff House—Housea1 & Krom. They always keep a lookout for everything that is good, as all their boarders will testify. Mr. Hunter is hard to beat. Can any one beat him?

OBITUARY.—Doctor Jno. C. Rehm, died at his residence in Pleasant Gap, January the 13th ult., aged 72 years and 14 days. He leaves a large family to mourn their loss. A widow, two brothers, eight daughters, six sons-in-law, thirty-two grand-children, and six great grand-children. His sufferings were short but severe. He lived a religious life and died the death of a christian, his last words being "I am crossing the river of Jordan, and I am almost over."

MILESBURG.—This ancient Borough appears to vie with Bellefonte for manufacturing enterprise. We hope they may spread themselves and succed in all their undertakings. There is some talk of all the old establishments starting up in the spring as well as some new ones. Our friends Col. Greeno & F. McCoy are now fitting up a manufactory for the purpose of making Spiral Furniture Springs—the only one of the kind in Western Pennsylvania. They are the right men in the right place.

BE TRUE.—Never forsake a friend. When enemies gather around, when sickness falls on the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, is the time to try true friendship. They who turn from the scene of distress betray their hypocrisy, and prove that interest only moves them. If you have a friend who loves you, who has studied your interests and happiness, be sure to sustain him in adversity. Let him feel that his former kindness is appreciated, and that his love was not thrown away.

NEW FIRM.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that our enterprising friend Levi A. Miller, has sold out his Grocery store to David Ruhl and Samuel Gault. Mr. Gault is we believe a carpenter by trade, and has up to this time worked at that business. He is an honest upright citizen and has made for himself hosts of friends. Mr. Ruhl is well known to all of our people, having been engaged for nearly ten years as clerk with D. M. Wagner, and for the last year with Messrs. Hoffer & Bro. Messrs. Ruhl & Gault are both high minded honorable men, honest, industrious and persevering. We wish them abundent success.

GOOD LUCK.—Some young men talk about luck. Good luck is to get up at six o'clock in the morning. Good luck, if you have only a dollar a week, is to live on ninety cents and save a dime. Good luck is to trouble your head with your own, and let others' business alone. Good luck is to fulfill the commandment and to do to other people as we wish them to do unto us. We must plod and persevere. Cents must be taken care of because they are the seed of dollars. To "get along in this world," we must take care of home, sweep our own doorways clean, try to help other people and have trust and faith in God.

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT.—On last Wednesday evening some men from Curtin's works, attempted to disturb the singing school at Pleasant Hill, under the leadership of Mr. J. M. Stover, and had it not been for Mr. Dan'l Ammerman and others, it might have terminated in a row. They (the disturbers) should be arrested, and brought to trial, and the full penalty of the laws be meted to them, not only for their own good, but as a warning to others of a similar stripe, of which there are many who defy the laws and the good intentions of others. It is high time that these outrages should cease. We forbear to mention names.

JAMES MILLIKEN, ESQ., AS A LECTURER.—MR. EDITOR:—Knowing that you were unavoidably absent from the Hall, on the evening of Mr. Milliken's Lecture, and always willing to render "Honor to whom honor is due" I tender you the benefit of my presence.

Vieving his appearance upon the stage as I view the stranger, I was more favorably impressed than with any of his "Predecessors in the Course."

The freshness of manhood, the sparkling eye, as depicted in his countenance, indicating youth and contrasting with the prematurely silver locks. The full ordinary size of form in faultless symmetry—each shared in so impressing me. He was thus in presence of a large and respectable audience of his boyhood friends—a trying audience for first appearance.

He acquitted himself creditably. His narration of his travels in the "East over the waters" was expressed with such exactness and points of diction, rich and figurative, throughout, so well and unostentatiously delivered, and so full of interest that all present enjoyed it continually.

I hesitate not to say that his audience was better entertained than that of Olive Logan, Doctor Lord, Josh Billings or Mr. Parton. VISITOR.

THE DRUNKARD'S FRIEND.—A mixture made up as follows, and taken in quantities equal to an ordinary dram and as often as his desire for strong drink returns, will cure the worst case of drunkenness: Sulphate of iron, five grains; peppermint water, 11 drachms, spirits of nutmeg, one drachm. The preparation acts as a tonic and stimulant, and so partially supplies the place of the accustomed liquor, and prevents the physical and moral prostration consequent upon a sudden breaking off from the use of stimulating drinks, So the papers say.

TO THE TRADE.—I desire to call the attention of the trade to my stock of lake fish, having, for the past thirteen years, made this branch of business a specialty. My stock, at this time, is the largest ever held in this city. I am prepared to furnish dealers, promptly, by the dray or car load, and have made arrangements for shipping by the car load, at special rates, from Detroit, Sandusky, Huron, Vermillion or Cleveland, and also from Pittsburgh to any points in Pennsylvania or Ohio, as shippers may with. I would also call the attention of dealers to my extensive assortment and stock of corn brooms, broom corn, and broom materials, all of which I can supply at very low rates.

HOW SCARLET FEVER IS SPREAD.—As there are a number of cases of scarlet fever every where the following account of how it is spread, which we find in the British "Medical Journal," will be of considerable interest to our readers:

"The enormous mortality from scarlet fever which appears in the Registrar General's mortality bills, is now constant and increasing in quantity. It is assuming proportions which are alarming, not the less so because they are largely increased by indiqidual carelessness. It has always been a source of great mortality, and in the absence of any means of checking its progress, such as we possess in vaccination for smallpox and by attention to the water supply and dramage for cholera and some forms of pythogenic fever, it becomes the more necessary accurately to investigate the means by which it is spread. These may be summed up chiefly in a few words. It is spread by personal carelessness, by neglect, and by recklessness of individuals as to the public safety.

Scarlet fever is propagated from person to person by culpable ignorance and criminal neglect. Cleanliness and general sanitary regulations are of use in mitigating the severity of the disease, but are no bar to its propagation. Let us take the experience of one London physician during the last week and it will easily explain how scarlet fever is now being spread. He tells us that he has become cognizant of the following cases during that time. Traveling by rail, he was requested not to put down the window as a little boy in the carriage was not very well. The boy was on his way home from a school where scarlet fever had broke out, and on examining him, the eruption was fully evident. A clergyman brought into his room a lad, not to consult him about the lad, but inadvertently. He was about to take him into the country. This lad had just recovered from scarlet fever, and was in the desquamative stage of convalescence, shedding about those scales which are so highly infectious, and are enough to poison the whole population. His washerwoman had scarlet fever in her family; he ascertained that it was conveyed by the clothing of a scarlet fever patient, sent to the wash by the friends without any caution. These are all acts of the most culpable and dangerous negligence. Scarlet fever is one of the most intensely and continuously contagious diseases. From the outset of the disease till the completion of the subsequent process of peeling of the skin, the patient, his clothing and discharges, the light scales which are diffused in the atmosphere from his peeling surface-skin, are pregnant with poison. Not only should he be carefully isolated; not only should his clothing and all that comes in contact with him be carefully and thoroughly disinfected; not only should his body be anointed, as Dr. Budd has recommended with oil to limit the aerial diffusion of the epidermal scales; but the utmost care should be exercised by the persons attending him not to become carriers of this virulent and subtle poison. To send to the laundress garments fatal as those of Dejanira, to expose in a public carriage or a crowded waiting room the fertile sources of a deadly and volatile poison, are terrible offenses against the public safety. They are constantly and carelessly committed; and it is thus that scarletina is spread."

THE MURDER OF THE INNOCENTS

Here are some sensible suggestions on an important subject—the education of the young—which we commend to the serious consideration of the Legislature, the Superintendent of Common Schools, Boards of Control and Teachers. The New York Star says:

Sir Walter Scott, in the very prime of his vigor, said that five hours and a half of mental labor was as much as the brain could normally bear. This testimony from one who was declared, by those capable of judging, to be the only perfectly healthy man of letters of his time is testimony to be taken as fact. If the mature brain united to a body in sound health can bear without sustaining injury, but five and a half hours of mental labor out of twenty-four, does it seem reasonable that children whose tissues are imperfect, whose vitality must be considerably expended in growth, should not be allowed as much time to study? Yet the average time of mental labor required of young people in boarding-schools is not less than nine hours, and much the same is to be said of the public schools. Great improvement has been wrought during the past ten years in the mingling of physical exercises with the routine of study, but we believe there is room for improvement.—No child under ten years old should be allowed to sit still with the attention concentrated on any task more than half an hour at a time; and all growing children should have exercise and recreation at least hourly. We are led to these remarks by the statement of a well known physician that spinal complaints and other diseases incident to children who are kept long in one position, and whose brains are overtaxed, are sadly on the increase. Said he: "Unless parents are aroused to the necessity of almost an entire change in the physical training of their children, we shall soon have no healthy American children."

ADVERTISING APHORISMS.—Judicious advertising always pays.

If you have a good thing, advertise it. If you havn't, don't.

If you don't mean to mind your own business, it will not pay to advertise.

Never run down your opponents' goods in public. Let him do his own advertising.

It's as true of advertising as of anything else in this world if it is worth doing at all it is worth doing well.

We don't recommend advertising as the best way to get a wife; but we know that it is the best way to get a good trade.

You can't eat enough in one week to last a whole year, and you can't advertise on that plan either.

A large advertisement once, and then discontinued, creates the impression that the man has fizzled.

Injudicious advertising is like fishing where there's no fish. You need to let the lines fall in the right place.

A constant dropping will wear a rock. Keep dropping your advertisements on the public and they will soon melt under it like rock salt.

Large type isn't necessary in advertising. Blind folks don't read newspapers.

If you can arouse curiosity by an advertisement it is a great point gained.—The fair sex don't hold all the curiosity in the world.

Don't be afraid to invest in printer's ink, lest your sands of life be nearly run out

When you advertise, see that you do it on the same principle that you buy goods. Get the most you can for the money.

People who advertise only once in three months forget that most folks can't remember anything longer than about seven days.

DIED.

Near Beech Creek, of Lung Fever, Della May, only daughter of Reuben S, and Martha Wagner, aged 1 year, 5 months and 15 days.

"Why would thou leave us, oh! lovely child,"
This sad and early doom:
And be so soon of joy bereft,
To wither in the tomb?

We mourn thee yet, 'tis better that thou'rt gone,
Freed and unsullied from a world of sin;
Gone to that sphere where guilt may never come.
Where sin and sorrow cannot enter in.

As the fair flower, nipt by the wintry blast,
Droops, fades und dies, its incense upward risen;
So, too, with thee—Life's troubled waters past,
Thy dust is earth, thy soul has rest in Heaven.

On the 15th ult, at the residence of his father, at Milesburg, George W., son of Samuel and Emiline Ayers, aged 17 years

Mr Ayers, though young, became subject to that fatal disease, Pulmonary Consumption, and just as he was ripening into promise and manhood, death marked him as his victim. He was fully prepared for his exit, and as life sank apace and death heaved in view, he was enabled to exclaim—

Oh, the prospect it is so transporting,
And no danger I'll fear for the tide;
Let me go to the home of the christian,
Let me stand robed in white by their side.
